We all know quality matters...But What is Quality Matters (QM)

Quality Matters (QM) is an international organization that is recognized as a leader in quality assurance for online education.

QM Quality Matters Certification for online classes!

Eight courses have earned Quality Matters certification. A course earns QM designation through rigorous peer review, which ensures quality course design and professional development for the faculty.

In 2017, under the expert leadership of Tammy Waldron, Instructional Designer, we initiated our QM Implementation Plan, becoming a Quality Matters recognized school. Today, we have a lot of successes to share with our alumni. The following courses have successfully met QM Standards:

- ❖ 2017, HUM 280, People and Their Food, Tammy Waldron, M.Ed
- ❖ 2018, COM 110, Introduction to Interpersonal Communication, Dr. Meghan Hollowell
- ❖ 2018, NUR 435, Dr. Nancy Trokan-Mathison
- ❖ 2018, PSY 110, Lifespan Development, Dr. Rob Kallmeyer
- ❖ 2018, NUR 350, Nursing Theories and Foundational Concepts, Dr. Nancy Trokan-Mathison
- ❖ 2018, NUR 335, Introduction to Research and Evidence-Based Practice, Dr. Nancy Trokan-Mathison

- ❖ 2018, STAT 201, Introduction to Statistics, Dr. Melanie Raby
- ❖ 2019, ENG 101, English Composition, Alyssa Ryan, MA
- ❖ 3 more courses are pending review spring of 2019

“Preparing my PSY 110: Lifespan Development course for a Quality Matters review was the kind of deep work that helps me grow as a professor.”

ROB KALLMEYER, PH.D

“The course now provides more equitable opportunities for success—providing each student with the ability to access course content regardless of learning styles, preferences, abilities etc. I feel proud of every change that I made to the course as a result of the review.”

MEGHAN HOLLOWELL, Ed.D
COM 110

The QM official review process consists of three outside certified reviewers. They review the course using the QM Rubric, which consists of 8 general standards with a total of 43 specific review standards. Although the process is rigorous, it has been both educational and impactful. Additionally, this process has also informed iterative improvements to our College Blackboard template, improving all courses offered at the College. Quality Matters adds tremendous value to our College, to the faculty and to our students learning experiences. Visit our Quality Matters page on the College website, to read about our faculty’s experiences and growth through the process.

Faculty Research

Dr. Rob Kallmeyer, Associate Professor of Psychology and Philosophy, will be presenting his research titled “Do Undergraduates Students Seek to Improve PERMA in their Courses?” at the International Positive Psychology Association Conference in Melbourne, Australia in July, 2019. This conference draws together thousands of Positive Psychology researchers around the globe to present their scientific research findings. The aim is to help educators, medical and health care professionals, and other practitioners use the principles of Positive Psychology to improve well-being.

Research Summary: The traditional undergraduate education provides students the knowledge and skills to earn a degree toward a career, with a foundation in the Arts and Sciences. “To get a better job” is a common reason students give for why they attend college (Rampell, 2015). We know college is considered a career path, but less is known about how students use their college education to achieve other important parts of life. We know that concepts such as mental health (Auerbach et al., 2016) and meaning in life (Trevisan, 2017) are important to college students; what we don’t know is whether students expect their college courses to help them improve these and other areas of wellbeing. This study uses the PERMA framework of wellbeing (Seligman, 2011) to answer this question. The 5 factors of PERMA are Positive Emotions, Engagement, Relationships, Meaning, and Accomplishments. This research determines the extent that students want their college courses to help them improve wellbeing overall and help them improve their experience of each construct in PERMA specifically. ♦

Did you Know ? ...

Recent research across college campuses reveals that many students go hungry. Sometimes it's episodic...sometimes it's more often than not. Take a look at some of the statistics.

- ❖ 11.2 % of students at 4-year colleges and 13.5% at vocational schools faced food insecurity in 2015 (Urban Institute)
- ❖ In an October 2016 report, HUNGER on Campus, 3800 students surveyed from 34 community and 4-year colleges across 12 states revealed that 22% faced food insecurity and 13% reported being homeless.
- ❖ Researchers at Temple University and the Wisconsin HOPE Lab surveyed 43,000 students from 66 schools, encompassing 2-year and 4-year public and private institutions. They found 36% of those surveyed do not get enough to eat. One in 10 community college students have gone a whole day without eating

One student shared, "Today I am kind of hesitant to buy food because I have less than $100 and I need to do laundry. Do I want to do laundry or do I want to eat today? That is the kind of question I'm dealing with."

The hard reality is that hunger or food insecurity impacts students' education. Many report not buying required textbooks, missing class, or even dropping a class as effects of experiencing food insecurity, despite over half of them reporting they have a paying job and a third working 20 hours or more per week.

SO, HOW DOES THE CHRIST COLLEGE COMPARE?

TCCNHS students are not immune. Here are some of our statistics:

- ❖ 38.9 % of TCCNHS students receive Pell Grants
- ❖ 70.4% of TCCNHS students work greater than 15 hours per week
- ❖ The average loan debt for a freshman student is $7,100 with the average debt for a Senior $34,608

The college has a food pantry for students to access without question.

One student shared this, "I just want to thank TCCNHS for the food pantry resource. I utilized it in my time of hunger and found relief. It's difficult to make ends meet sometimes (esp. days before payday!) When days are better, and I have food to offer, I will donate back to TCCNHS's great bounty!"

Please consider a monetary donation to The Christ College in support of a food assistance fund. Don't allow food concerns to be a barrier to student success. ♦

FALL Semester Highlights

- ❖ To kick off the semester, students enjoyed Welcome Week, a week full of activities and good food to jumpstart the new school year! Activities included a Resource Fair, TCCNHS Spirit Day and FC Cincinnati Game! There were tons of fun and engagement opportunities for students, faculty and staff and even a t-shirt giveaway!
- ❖ In July, we welcomed our new president, Dr. Gail Kist-Kline, who is always eager and excited to hear from our students. Because of this, Coffee and Conversation was created! During this hour-long event, students were able to ask Dr. Kist-Kline questions about the direction of the College and even some fun questions, such as Skyline Chili or Goldstar Chili?
- ❖ During Midterm exams, stress is high around campus for obvious reasons. To help students relax, DeStress Fest was created! During the all-day event, students enjoyed free stress balls, shared their favorite quotes, sculpted Play-Doh portraits and had the chance to pet therapy dogs. Students enjoyed their study break and the chance to be a kid again!
- ❖ We are so grateful and appreciative that the students of TCCNHS chose us to pursue their education endeavors! Because of this, the Departments of Student Success and Diversity and Inclusion hosted a TCCNHSgiving Dinner to show our gratitude to both the students and faculty and staff. President Kist-Kline shared a few words of appreciation with students before serving meals, along with Deans Bradley Jackson, Meghan Hollowell and Carolyn Hunter. Students enjoyed having a hearty meal and fellowship with their classmates.

From the Traditional BSN program

The BSN Program is excited to have our first graduating class of seniors who will proudly graduate on May 4, 2019 at the Cintas Center at 10:00am! Their senior year consists of 4 8-week clinical intensive courses in the fall and spring semesters where they complete 24 hours of clinical each week in either 8-hour or 12-hour shifts. The clinical intensive provides students with the consistency in the clinical area to make clinical judgments on patients that they've taken care of for several days and provide unmatched experience that will improve their transition to practice. This is the first time our college has offered clinical intensives and so far, it's been a great experience for students, the instructors and patients!

Congratulations are in order for Wesley Osler, senior BSN student and President of the National Student Nurses' Association (NSNA)! Wesley was recently awarded a $3000 Presidential scholarship for his leadership in NSNA. The letter included a note that said, "Wesley has represented your nursing program and the National Student Nurses' Association very well and we are very proud of him." ♦

RN-BSN Students Present Leadership Posters at TCH Research Day

Congratulations to ten recent RN-BSN graduates whose exemplary NUR465 posters were chosen by the TCH Research Council for display at the TCHHN Research Days which took place October 2, 2018!

NUR465 focuses on developing and understanding leadership skills and concept. The course is taken by students in their final semester of The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences' RN-BSN program. NUR465 focuses on developing and understanding leadership skills and concepts. The posters reflect leadership skills required to design a quality improvement initiative to enhance patient outcomes. Posters are displayed in a scientific format that includes: 1) background and data analysis; 2) process flow chart; 3) intervention; 4) expected outcome; 5) implementation plan with evaluation method; 6) conclusion and implication for nursing; 7) research evidence references supporting intervention.

Posters were chosen based on diversity of topic and completion of all steps of the Clinical Practicum Quality Improvement Initiative assignment. The following student posters were on display at the TCH Centennial Pavilion from October 2-9:

Enhancing the Role of the Rapid Responder

2018 Alumni Reunion Luncheon

Over 75 alum enjoyed a fabulous Reunion Luncheon overlooking the scenic Ohio river and downtown Cincinnati from the 6th floor rooftop event center at The Christ Hospital Joint & Spine Center. Coming home they shared many time-honored memories. Newly appointed President Gail Kist-Kline welcomed alum calling out specifically three graduates from the Class of 1947, Ruth Gibson, Helen Hanselman, and Nancy Younger celebrating 71 years. Associate Dean, Nursing and TCHSN alum Connie McFadden Chase (1994) spoke to changes in nursing and highlighted the College's BSN program. Carolyn Hunter, Dean of Operations and a 1974 alum led off a story telling hour with her reminiscence of sliding down a mattress-lined stairwell in the nurses' dorm.

The class of 1968, celebrating 50 years had this to share:

We started the weekend at Harmony Hills Winery enjoying each other and the wine and just catching up! Saturday began with the Annual Alumni Luncheon! It was a wonderful time—reminiscent of Luncheons of past years with the focus being the Nursing Programs! We met that evening at the home of Karen and Jim Bellman, complete with Montgomery Inn, Graeter's ice cream, and CHSN cookies! It was a wonderful evening sharing stories, memories, and pictures. We had classmates from California (Bev Rummel), Arizona (Linda Forney), Virginia (Mary Ellen Ingram) Georgia (Sue Shipley), Alabama (Sharon Winklejohn) with the rest of us from the Cincinnati area!! As a final tribute, we made a donation to the Mary Alice Calme Memorial Fund, a 1977 TCHSN graduate and recent college faculty member. This is a last dollar fund to help support students in financial need at the end of their program. The donation was made in honor of our class and in memory of fellow classmates Clydette Mullins, Karen Stephenson, and Sue Hust. ♦

Living Our Core Values

Jill Beasley embodies our core values of caring, collaboration, integrity, and excellence in a myriad of ways. As a student Jill Beasley (2010) was very involved in the Student Nurse Association of Christ College (SNACC) serving on the Ohio Student Nurses Association (OSNA) board of directors; and, as Vice-President on the National Student Nurse Association (NSNA). She continued that work after graduation and served on the Ohio Nurses Association (ONA) board of directors from 2013-2015 as secretary. Jill also served on the Health Policy Committee of the ONA, traveling to DC several times to lobby for legislation that best serves patients and advocating for the nursing profession. Jill's experiences truly epitomize the college's values of integrity and excellence in work toward advancing the state of patient care and the profession of nursing.

Following in line with our mission, Jill took life-long learning to heart and completed her BSN at Ohio University and her master's degree in nursing administration at UC. In 2013 she was honored as the Ohio March of Dimes

Med-Surg Nurse of the Year. Jill is currently employed as a supervisor at Select Specialty Hospital Cincinnati North.

None of these accomplishments would have been possible had Jill not begun her nursing career at The Christ College. In her own words, Jill shares how the College's values of caring and collaboration were bestowed on her.

"I wanted to say that the Christ College family supported me even after I graduated. I was diagnosed with stage 3C rectal cancer 3 weeks before graduation from Christ. I was devastated because I had worked so hard to be a nurse. At the time I was a single parent of 5. Several professors and Dr. Nathan Long stayed in touch with me during my cancer treatment, attending a benefit that friends held for me. Christmas of the following year Dr. Long delivered a significant amount of money that staff had collected for me to help me pay bills and provide a Christmas for my children. This shows the caliber of the staff at the college and the way in which they think of and support their students. I am forever grateful for my time there. The emotional support provided to me from the staff at the college during my treatment was priceless."

Jill continues to give back and serve the college through engaging in various college events. She served on our alumni panel for the college's Live Surgery event speaking to high school students aspiring to be nurses about nursing advocacy and leadership. ♦

Alumni take Veterans on Honor Flights

As we honor our U.S. veterans who have selflessly served our country, we would also like to highlight three Christ graduates who have routinely accompanied WW II, Korean War, and Vietnam War vets on Honor Flights to Washington, DC. On these special flights, veterans get to see the sights and memorials all around the DC area.

Alumni, Carole Stoelting Quackenbush '87, Terry M. Foster '81, & Karen Unger '80 (pictured left to right) have done these flights for years; and on the flights they don't take, they are usually at the airport to greet these men and women as they arrive back that night.

We take great pride in the service and compassion our nurse alumni give to our veterans, our communities, and to the world here and abroad. As we remember and thank our veterans, we also thank our alumni for their part in giving back. They exemplify our core values of caring, collaboration, integrity and excellence. ♦

The Living Heart

Insights from the Archives

Students lining the dorm staircase with mattresses and sliding all the way to the bottom. Climbing into the cupola on Class Day to put the class colors at the highest point of the hospital grounds. Sneaking into the residents' quarters after lights out. Accidentally insulting a Cincinnati baseball icon in the hospital for a hurt hand. These are just snippets of stories that were shared at the reunion luncheon on September 22, 2018. They made all in attendance laugh and reminisce about their days as a student here at Christ. The problem is, once we're all gone, what happens to those stories? They disappear unless you find a way to save them.

When I became the archivist for The Christ Hospital Health Network in 2015, one of my priorities was setting up an oral history program. With the help of Dr. William Camm, we now have ten filmed interviews with various physicians and administrators who helped The Christ Hospital become what it is today. (If you'd like to learn more/view them, email me so I can send you the links to the digital videos!) The interviews offer great insight into our history, but there is one obvious hole in our narrative: the story of our nurses and the story of our school.

I've been aware of this hole for quite some time and have hemmed and hawed at how to fill it. Most alumni I speak to are no longer in the Cincinnati area. Even considering local alumna, there are so many more possible nurses to interview than physicians – how do you choose whose story to record when the cost of filming is so high? I don't want money to dictate whose story is saved and whose isn't. That is why I bought a digital audio recorder and some microphones.

In December, I sat down with Judi Schofield, Director of Nursing Quality, Safety, Innovation and Excellence at The Christ Hospital. Judi was the longest-serving manager of the CVSU at over thirteen years. While not a CHSN grad, she gave us wonderful insight into being a nurse at The Christ Hospital and how it has changed over time. Next up on my list for audio-only oral histories is Carolyn Hunter, a CHSN 1974 graduate and current Dean of Operations for The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences.

If any alumni are local to Cincinnati or are coming to town, I'd love for you to stop by to participate in our oral history series! You are a crucial element to preserving our past for the generations to come. Even if you aren't interested in doing an interview, please reach out to chat. It would be wonderful to hear what you have to say and update your contact information for our files!

Do you have items from your time as a student that you'd like preserved for future students and staff to enjoy?

The archives is currently collecting materials that document student life. Types of materials we collect include photographs, scrapbooks, event programs, newspaper articles, old uniforms/capes, and more! 70s

Joyce (Glasgow) Wilson, Class of 1971 writes: I retired in 2001 but continued to work part time until October 2014. Steve and I spend our winters in Bradenton, Florida. We have 3 grandchildren and spend most of our time going to their activities. We downsized in November 2016 and I tore my rotator cuff. I finally had it repaired this past March and am doing great! I also serve as President of the South-Central Ohio Area Aglow Leadership Team which serves 28 Ohio counties. Aglow is a non-denominational Int'l organization for men and women to share the love of God. Aglow has Lighthouses in 170 nations.
