A Message

From the Desk of the President

Graduation is the culmination of much hard work and the opportunity to celebrate the success of our students. In May, we graduated our first BSN (Bachelor of Science in Nursing) students and our first HCA (Health Care Administration) students and said goodbye to our last class of ADN (Associate Degree in Nursing) students. This fall we open our new facility (The Commons) for classes and begin our new MA (Medical Assisting) program. Thanks to our partnership with the Network, we are providing 15 MA students with tuition reimbursement to support the needs of our physicians and provide career options for these individuals. This program will continue to grow as student applications have been much greater than anticipated. Also, in partnership with The Christ Hospital Network, more Christ College students were hired from our May graduates than ever before. Our faculty continue to provide high quality learning experiences to assure our students succeed in the classroom and beyond! ♦

2019 Commencement Ceremony

The 12th Annual Commencement Ceremony for The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences was held the morning of Saturday, May 4, 2019 at the Xavier University Cintas Center.

President, Dr. Gail Kist-Kline reminded us all that “Graduation provides the College, the students, their families and friends a time of celebration, recognition, and reflection as she addressed her first commencement ceremony for The Christ College. “During this academic year, I have witnessed the dedication and commitment of outstanding faculty and students who work extremely hard every day to reach their established goals. Today is a great day as we approach the culmination of those outstanding student and faculty efforts.”

Commencement speaker Arturo Polizzi, newly appointed President and CEO of The Christ Hospital Health Network, spoke to the history of the College, acknowledging 116 years have passed between the first graduating class and the Class of 2019. “Those who have come before you have cleared the path for you to be where you are today...students from generations past, in whose footsteps you walk. Your world is going to change – beginning today. Embrace this change - embrace the good you’re going to do in the world. And let your story become your legacy. I wish you grace, and strength, and clarity to see the choices in front of you and to make the right ones. This is your moment.”

The Class of 2019 had 305 graduates from the Associate of Applied Science in Nursing, Associate of Science in General Studies, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, and Bachelor of Science in Healthcare Administration degree programs. This marked the end of an era and new beginnings as well. The Associate of Applied Science in Nursing program, started in 2006, celebrated the graduation of its final class. The four-year Bachelor of Science in Nursing, begun in 2015, graduated its first class along with two graduates from the most recent Bachelor of Science in Health Care Administration, begun in 2017. ◆

Congratulations to the Class of 2019!

The Christ College Alum and Faculty Member Reflects on ...

The First and Last

BY: AMY BEHLERT GRANT (2008)

I have a special kinship with The Christ College Graduating Class of 2019. In 2006, I entered the doors of The Christ College as a student. It was a life-changing moment for me, as I was taking my first step into the career of Nursing. It was a time of change for the school as well. What used to be The Christ Hospital School of Nursing was now The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences. I was in the College's first graduating class of the Associate of Applied Science in Nursing program. I've heard, "There are moments in our lives which can be defined as a transition between the before and after, between the cause and the effect." This described my phase in life then, and once again defines it now. I am now a professor at The Christ College, and have had the opportunity to be a friend and colleague with the teachers who so excellently prepared me to be a nurse: Mary Alice Calme, Jane Crenshaw, Carolyn Hunter, Julie Kelly, Connie McFadden-Chase, Maureen Schwab, Tara Schwab, Nancy Trokan-Mathison, Mary Winkel, and Cheryl Waklatsi.

As I attended the graduation this Spring, I couldn't help but smile with pride. The College and I were again experiencing a transition together. The Class of 2019 is the First and Last—the last students of the College's Associate degree program and the first graduating students in the school's traditional Bachelor of Science in Nursing program.

I had the privilege of teaching both groups of students, prepare them for the many opportunities in the field of Nursing, and participate in their transition between the before and after. I join the College in congratulating these graduates! You have accomplished so much, and it is just the beginning. I am excited to see where each of you will go and inevitably succeed. I also am thrilled about the continued growth and development for the College. I believe the way that Martin Luther King described the church also is true for The Christ College: It's not a place you've come to, but instead a place you go from. We go from here into the world, into hospitals and healthcare facilities, and into the lives of our patients. Welcome to Nursing and the Alumni family of The Christ College! ♦

Celebration of Excellence

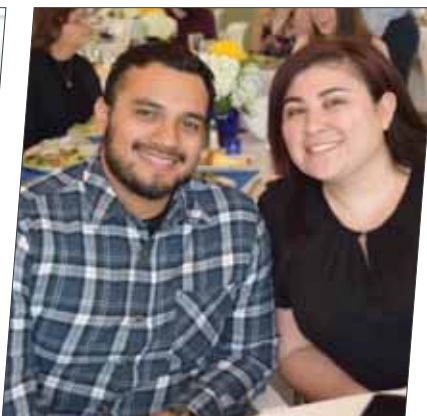

The Christ College of Nursing & Health Sciences celebrated its 6th Annual Celebration of Excellence on March 25, 2019. The congratulatory evening featured hors d'oeuvres, dinner, music and an award ceremony honoring students, staff and faculty members who have gone above and beyond throughout the academic year. Through hard work and dedication, the individuals that were recognized have succeeded at extraordinary levels in both service as well as achievements. Nursing Pinning Ceremonies

The nursing department's Pinning Ceremonies were held at the Drees Pavilion in Devou Park, Covington, Kentucky, on December 19, 2018 and May 1, 2019. The traditional pinning ceremony is a passage from nursing school into the wonderful career of nursing. It is a joyous occasion shared with family and friends who have supported the students during their courses of study.

The Pinning held May 1 signified a historic event in the history of the College as the final class of Associate of Applied Science, Nursing (ADN) graduates and first class of Bachelor of Science, Nursing (BSN) graduates were pinned. Emily Worley, the final ADN graduate, was pinned by Professor Nicely, ADN Program Director. Ashley Alexander, the first BSN graduate, was pinned by Professor Rigby, BSN Program Director.

Selected by their peers, Rebecca Hinkle representing the ADN program, and Zachary Payne and Kaitlyn Wilson representing the BSN program addressed their peers, family, friends, faculty and staff during the May ceremony.

Jennifer Wesley, the December ADN class speaker said, "There are some things that nursing school can't teach you. No book can teach you how to hold the hand of a dying person and comfort their family. No exam can prepare you for the adrenaline of your first code. No grade can replace the feeling of watching a new life come into the world. But the education we received at the Christ College has given us an incredible start to the world's most rewarding career. ♦

Thank you Jen and welcome graduates to the profession of nursing!

Alumni Spotlight

Thinking of working internationally as a nurse?

Alumna, Erin McLean, shares her experience as an RN in England!

In Erin's words: "I graduated from The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences with my ADN in 2013 and my BSN in December 2014. One of the many benefits of attending a hospital-based nursing program is it enabled me to put into immediate practice what I learned in the classroom. I enjoyed having small class sizes, which allowed the professors to spend quality time explaining material clearly and effectively. I also found the staff extremely approachable and was never afraid to ask for help or encouragement when needed. I found my pre and post-licensure coursework laid the foundation for my nursing career. I especially loved the RN-BSN program, as my classmates were nurses from various ages and nursing backgrounds. Working closely with these students encouraged me to think critically and creatively.

During my studies, I worked at The Christ Hospital as a PCA on both geriatric and oncology floors. Working on campus made me comfortable with patients during their most vulnerable time. I learned the basics, starting with personal care, and as time went on, I was able to work closely with the nurses and understand the patients from a nursing level, not just a PCA level.

After graduation, I moved to Taverham, Norfolk, United Kingdom in September 2016 to be with my now fiancé, Matt, who is British. I am currently an RN in the Emergency Room, known in England as Accident and Emergency(A&E). I enjoy my role in this department; however, it is vastly different from my role as an RN in Ohio. There are several sections in the A&E, such as Minor Injuries, Children's ER, Resus (trauma and extremely ill area), RATS (rapid assessment triage area), Ambulatory Majors, and Trolley Bay. I work in the Older Person Emergency Department (OPED), the UK's first ED designed to provide a calmer experience for patients over the age of 80. It's a 6-bed, busy unit, or ward, as they say!

Socialized nursing in England differs from privatized nursing in the United States in several ways. The hospital where I work primarily uses paper charting with only intermittent electronic charting. On wards there are six patients per bay (large rooms), and usually four bays per ward. There are side rooms available, and these are reserved for patients that have something infectious or they are passing away. A benefit of shared bays is when patients receive bad news, the other patients can support and comfort them after the doctor leaves. Unlike the U.S., England does not focus on preventative health care, and patients can wait a long time for procedures unless admitted to the hospital. RNs in England generally don't have stethoscopes or perform head-to-toe assessments. In comparison, the role of the U.S. nurse is similar to the role of a junior doctor in England! I often get asked what type of health care I prefer; my honest answer is that both types of health care have pros and cons. I find that nurses in both countries work very hard to care for the patients, we just have different responsibilities. I'm proud to be an American nurse and a British nurse!

On a personal note, Matt and I are getting married October 5, 2019. I love the history and the quaintness of England, and it has given me the opportunity to travel! One of the highlights was a meeting the Royal Family at the Queen's holiday house, Sandringham, only an hour away. I got to shake Kate Middleton's hand and was on the news! I really love living in England and love that my degree from The Christ College allows me to work anywhere in the world... as a NURSE!" ♦

~ ERIN McLEAN, RN, BSN (2013/2014)

Nursing is an Adventure!

Just ask Michael Zenz, TCC Alumni!

“Attending a hospital-based nursing program is one of the best decisions I’ve ever made” states Michael Zenz (Class of 2014 ADN, 2015 RN-BSN, 2015-2016 TCH Critical Care Nurse Residency). Michael, now a travel nurse in Reno, NV, appreciates the education he received at The Christ College, which according to him, “allowed [him] to work very closely with The Christ Hospital and build relationships with potential employers.” Michael, like many students, worked while attending classes as a CNA on the Cardiovascular Stepdown Unit. This experience, he claims, “... helped me transition to RN, as I was able to apply classroom material to real life.” His decision to immediately enroll in our RN-BSN program gave him additional exposure and insight into potential units of interest, citing “...for our capstone projects we were able to work with the hospital units we were interested in and contribute data or new policies.” After completing his BSN, he was selected into The Christ Hospital’s Critical Care Nurse Residency program for CVSU. According to Michael, “That program taught me so much and our instructor was extremely knowledgeable. It made me prepared to take on the role of being a Stepdown RN as a new grad and gave me a lot of confidence from the material we learned, the clinicals we had on the floor, and simulations we did. All of these educational experiences made me a more prepared nurse.”

Capitalizing on career flexibility, Michael has since switched from cardiac stepdown to ER. He has found a way to merge his RN career with his love for adventure, exploring new places on assignment with his girlfriend, also a travel nurse! “I love skiing, camping, hiking and really anything in the mountains. I have done travel contracts in Pueblo and Denver, CO; Seattle, WA and now in Reno, NV. I love travel nursing and being able to explore new places all the time. I’m having the time of my life doing it!”

We might say Michael is living his best life... as a nurse and Christ College alum! We wish him well and hope he visits with lots of stories to tell! ♦

Health Care Administration:

High Schooler Exploration Day

In March, The Christ College's Admissions & Recruitment Department hosted an exploration day to specifically highlight our new program, Health Care Administration. We invited area high schoolers interested in pursuing a business degree to come explore the vibrant and expansive world of health care. Our Bachelor of Science in Health Care Administration (HCA) degree is intended for individuals seeking to be the business behind the care.

Over 50 high school juniors and seniors from across the tristate visited our campus for this exciting event. Participants were able to learn about our college, our HCA degree and also speak to a panel of business professionals within The Christ Hospital Health Network. These professionals represented the great variety in business & leadership roles within a health network to help students explore their own interests. Our panel included:

- ❖ Jenny Collopy, Senior Marketing Manager
- ❖ John Nelson, Human Resources Recruiter
- ❖ Rachel Schmid, Operating Room Administrative Assistant
- ❖ Deb Zevallos, Assistant Professor, HCA
- ❖ Madison Kramer, Senior Coordinator-Volunteer Services

After the panel discussion, the students broke out into small groups with one of the leaders above. This provided a chance for them to get up close and personal with a specific health care business function. During the breakout sessions, students did everything from creating brand messaging for the network to learning about behavior interviewing practices to visiting the operating room to see the logistical coordination required to support a busy unit. We hope the students not only got to hear, but also see firsthand, the opportunity that exists for non-clinical professionals within the health care industry. The great thing about being the business side of care is the wonderful variety of roles, opportunities for advancement and ability to still make a huge impact on patient outcomes.

From Marketing to Human Resources to Project Coordination to Finance and much, much more ... The Christ College is pleased to now offer our HCA degree to develop a variety of health care leaders! ♦

The Living Heart

Insights from the Archives

In the winter edition of “The Living Heart,” I discussed my burgeoning oral history collection. I went from having one audio only interview to five in just as many months! The art of storytelling through oral history interviews enables us to preserve information that might otherwise never be recorded. What information is that, you ask? Well...

Barbara Birch and Carolyn Distaola (CHSN Class of 1966) enlightened me on the marriage practices of our students in the 1960s. As Barbara said, “Well, the funny thing was we weren’t allowed to be married in school. We all graduated on one Saturday, and we all got married on the following Saturday. Most couldn’t come to your wedding or be in your wedding because everybody was getting married the next week. Which I did, you [Carolyn] didn’t. But I did.”

Carolyn Hunter (Dean of Operations of The Christ College and CHSN Class of 1974) taught me that things were a bit different for students living in the dorm than from our current commuter school status. “It was really kind of different, because if you signed out overnight, even if you wanted to come back in at three o’clock in the morning, you couldn’t. You literally had to be out overnight. And your parents had to approve that.”

Maureen Schwab (Associate Dean and Chief Compliance Officer of The Christ College) was an instructor at The Christ Hospital School of Nursing when computers entered our nursing education programs. “At first they put two computers in the back of the library. And they were kind of like these foreign alien things that nobody knew what to do with them [...] And we would work with students just trying to learn how to use a mouse, and we would play solitaire on the computers to teach people how to grab something and move it.”

Sheila Jackson-Conley (Coordinator of The Christ College Learning Center and CHSN Class of 2000) spoke of her rotation at Shriners Hospital for Children as a student and learning post-mortem care. “For Shriner’s, for those patients, we had to disconnect and cut tubes. It involved even preserving blankets that the child had been in, so we could give those to the family. We had to clean and wrap the child so we could send them to the morgue. Handprints, fingerprints, when we could, as memorabilia for the family. It was a lot. We cried our way through.”

As you can see, there is so much we can learn about our organization by talking to our alumni, faculty, and staff! Please reach out if you are willing to sit down with us to tell your story.

Do you have items from your time as a student that you’d like preserved for future students and staff to enjoy?

"IN THE BAG" RAISES MORE THAN $20,000!

The Christ Hospital Foundation Guild's first-ever In The Bag event, brought more than 100 people together to enjoy an evening of drinks, light bites, conversation, and fun – all to benefit The Christ College. Our very own Terry Foster (1981) entertained us with his whimsical stories from life in the ER.

The evening included a silent auction for designer bags, with one lucky winner taking home a new Louis Vuitton Neverfull monogrammed handbag. Goettle Engineering and Construction, and Fort Washington Investment Advisors, Inc., were the presenting sponsors of the event.

"We are very grateful to the Guild, not only for organizing this event, but for also making it one of the best fundraising events of the year benefitting the College," says Gail Kist-Kline, President of The Christ College. "The funds they raised will support scholarships, which are crucial to helping our students pursue their dreams of becoming healthcare leaders." ◆

MAGIC is Happening!

Have you heard about the MAGIC Happening? The Mt. Auburn Gardens Initiative Collaborative (MAGIC) has taken root and is growing in a neighborhood plot near you.

MAGIC is a group effort composed of residents and the following organizations: Mt. Auburn Chamber of Commerce and Chamber Foundation, Mt. Auburn Community Council, Mt. Auburn Community Development Corporation, Uptown Rental Properties, Isaiah 55 Inc., Meshewa Farm Foundation, The Christ Hospital Health Network and The Christ College of Nursing and Health Sciences, The Center for Closing the Health Gap, William Howard Taft Elementary, Mt. Auburn Preparatory Academy, The Mac House LLC., The Giving Trees Project, The Civic Garden Center of Greater Cincinnati, Gods Bible School and College, and Church of Our Savior.

Along with help from University of Cincinnati Students, Faculty, and Staff, our group has cleaned up and revitalized parts of Mt. Auburn as we work to transform the neighborhood into a Garden of Eden. We have planted 20 beds and installed 7 fruit trees and 6 black berry bushes at Mt. Auburn Preparatory Academy thanks to the Meshewa Farm Foundation. Twelve residents have individual garden plots at Albion Place Community Garden, and the food grown at Mt. Auburn Prep will be given to the school's families and Isaiah 55 to feed people in the neighborhood. With financial support from The Christ Hospital Health Network and The Center for Closing the Health Gap, MAGIC has hired Shannon Carr of Isaiah 55, Inc. to coordinate the community garden and be the production manager for Mt. Auburn Prep. Jeff Johnson, owner of Albion Gardens generously donates water and electricity to the project.

Furthermore, The Mt. Auburn Chamber of Commerce and Foundation received a donation of land and dollars from Uptown Rental Properties and have planted 8 fruit trees at 251 McGregor. MAGIC was awarded a grant from the Office of Environment and Sustainability and are installing a path and benches to make 251 a Food Forest Pocket Park. More planting will be done this fall, and MAGIC plans to expand the park with more projects in the years to come.

Finally, our group is in the process of creating a food and community asset map for the neighborhood. See examples here: <https://www.eatlocalcorv.org/food-maps/>

Can you dig it? Interested in getting involved?
