

Used Textbooks and How to Value

Condition Criteria:

Used Textbook pricing is based on CONDITION and DEMAND. Because condition is subject to many factors, the final decision on determining a used textbook condition is at the discretion of Joseph-Beth.

Regardless of condition, if noted in the title, all CD-ROM's or unused access codes must be included to be accepted for purchase.

Certain textbooks have no value. Some examples of textbooks having no value are as follows (this is not an all inclusive list, please contact us if you have specific questions):

1. Used textbooks with bad bindings, missing covers and/or missing pages.
2. Textbooks with water damage (moisture causing wavy, sticky, discolored or swollen pages).
3. International Editions, Free Copy, Annotated Copy, Complimentary Copy, Professional Copy and Instructor Copy (Occasionally there are exceptions, please contact us for approval).

Are books with highlighting or writing allowed?

Please count the number of pages on which your book is written in or highlighted. 5 pages or less? No problem! But, if there are more than 5 pages highlighted, please get manager approval. Under no circumstances will we purchase workbooks or study-guides with writing on more than 5 pages. Books with an excessive and outrageous amount of highlighting or writing may be graded as unacceptable, subject to our discretion.
